Cutting instructions:

1. From each print fabric, cut (36) 5 1/2" squares (144 squares total)
2. From solid fabric, cut (144) 5 1/2" squares

Cut and piece the Drunkard's Path units:

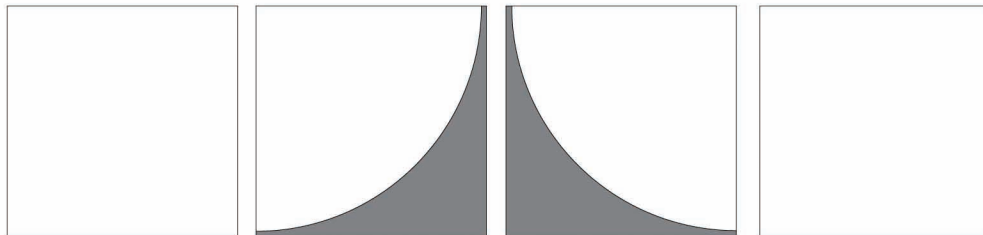

1. Use the Wedge template to cut Wedge Units from (48) solid 5 1/2" squares and (12) 5 1/2" squares of each print fabric (48 print Wedges, total).
2. Use the Arc template to cut Arc Units from (48) solid 5 1/2" squares and (12) 5 1/2" squares of each print fabric (48 print Arcs, total).
3. Match each print Wedge with a solid Arc, and each solid Wedge with a print Arc.
4. With right sides together, pin Arc and Wedge units together along the curved edges, matching raw edges.
5. Stitch along curve using a 1/4" seam to make (96) Drunkard's Path units. If needed, trim each unit to measure 5 1/2" square. (Diagram 1)

Piece the Ogee Blocks:

Note: The quilt shown constructs each Ogee Block from units in a single print. If you prefer a scrapier look, you may mix prints within each Ogee Block.

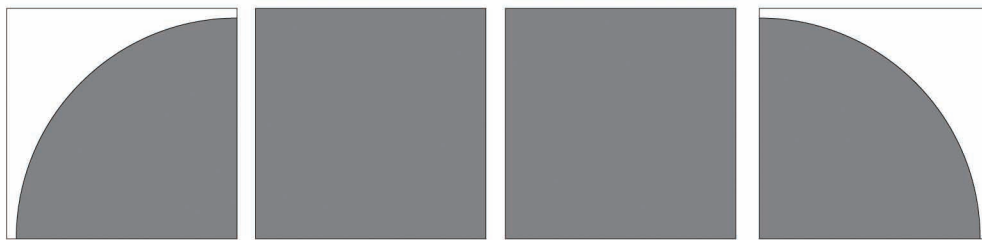

1. Piece Row A from (2) Drunkard's Path units with solid Wedges and (2) solid 5 1/2" squares; piece (2) Rows A for each Ogee Block. (Diagram 2)

2. Piece Row B from (2) Drunkard's Path units with print Wedges and (2) print 5 1/2" squares; piece (2) Rows B for each Ogee Block. (Diagram 3)

3. Lay out each set of (2) Rows A and (2) Rows B as shown; stitch together along long edges to complete (1) Ogee Block. (Diagram 4)

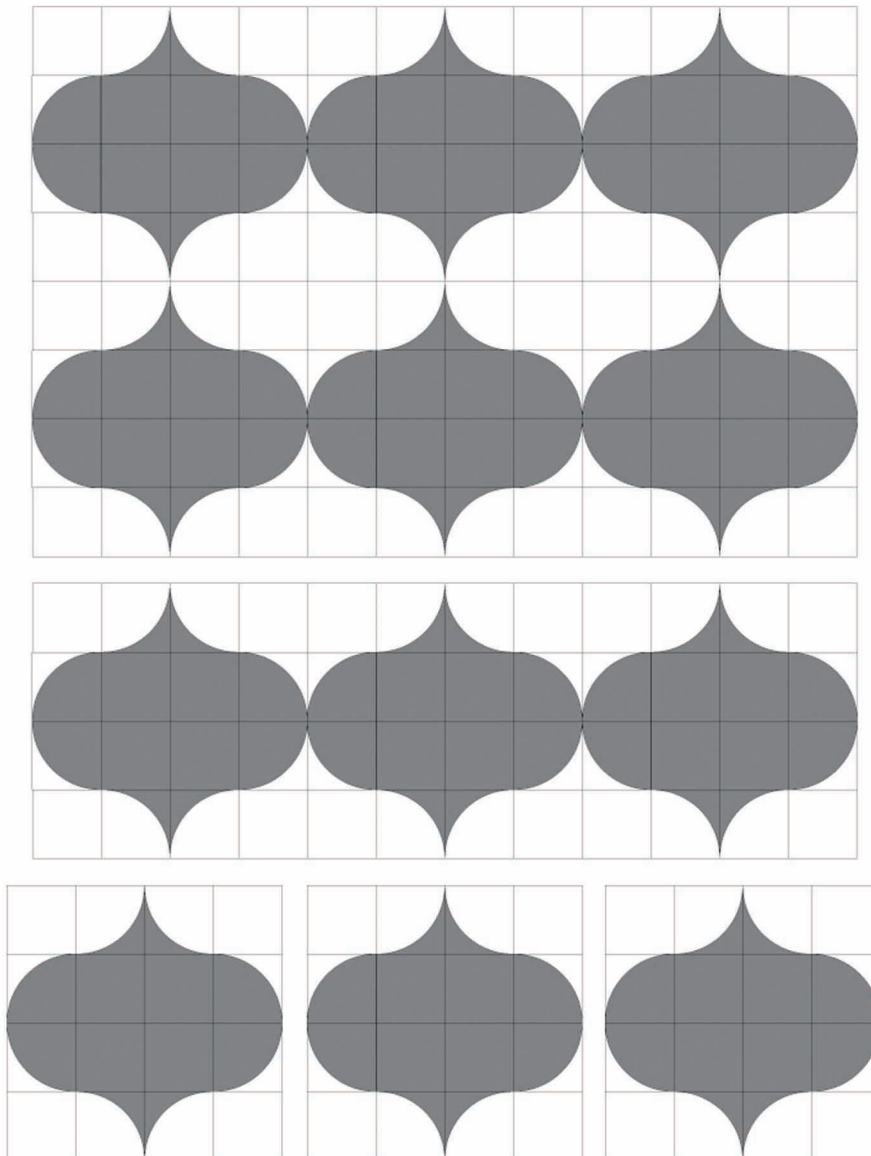

4. Repeat with remaining units to create (12) Ogee Blocks.

Piece the blocks together and finish the quilt:

1. Lay out Ogee Blocks in a 3 X 4 grid: stitch into rows, then stitch rows together. (Diagram 5)

2. Layer, baste, and quilt as desired. Bind using your favorite method.
